

Schedule an educational In-Service for your team today!

In-Services may be scheduled for in-person or virtual sessions. In-Services are typically 20-30 minutes in duration and provide teams with valuable information about patient care & Quest Products. Breakfast or lunch is provided by Quest Healthcare.

How Your Team Benefits From An In-Service

Xerostomia (dry mouth) in the Elderly

- What is Xerostomia
- Role of Saliva
- Common Issues as a Result of Xerostomia in the Elderly
- Etiological Factors of Xerostomia
- Signs and Symptoms of Xerostomia
- Management of Dry Mouth
- XyliMelts®

Bowel Care in the Long-Term Care Setting

- Constipation – Rome IV
- Constipation Incidence and Cost in Long Term Care
- Fecal Incontinence and the Increased Risk of Pressure Injuries
- Red Flags on an Ineffective Bowel Management Program
- Clinical Comparison
- Adaptive Bowel Care Chart

Cerumen Impaction in the Elderly

- What is Cerumen Impaction and its Function?
- Prevalence of Cerumen Impaction
- Risk Factors
- Signs and Symptoms of Cerumen Impaction
- Vertigo and Cerumen Impaction
- Managing and Treating Cerumen Impaction
- Clinere®

Pressure Injuries in the Elderly

- Prevalence of Pressure Injuries in the Elderly
- Identify Causes and Persons at Risk for Pressure Injury
- Age Related Injuries
- Managing Pressure
- Morbidity and Mortality
- Cost to the Healthcare System
- Treatment Options
- Alocane® Plus

Schedule Your In-Service Today

Quest Healthcare | 800.650.0113 | customercare@questproductsinc.com

Or visit: questhealthcare.net to learn more